Former Elks memory honoured at Alumni game

One day before the NHL unveiled their 100 top players of all time at their all-star game, Elk Point recognized more than 80 of their own. Thirty-three Elk Point Elks senior hockey alumni laced up their skates and returned to the A. G. Ross Arena ice to pay tribute to the memory of former Elks player Mike Boratyne with five more alumni as coaches.

More alumni joined the crowd in the stands to cheer on their old teammates, and John Soldan, who played with the Elks for one season before deciding his talents were better used to record their games for posterity than joining them on the ice, was back with his cameras to capture a whole new set of memories.

The reunion started in mid afternoon with a meet-and-greet session where players from as far back as the early 1980s renewed acquaintances and shared stories of games and road trips back in the day, as well as admiring today's Elks' classy new dressing room and picking up their jerseys with the new Elks logo for the upcoming game.

Waterlines, snow shoveling on town council agenda

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Elk Point town council's biggest decision came after an in-camera discussion deferred from earlier in last Monday's agenda, when they passed a motion to enter into a contract with Nikiforuk Construction Ltd. for rehabilitation and replacement of an existing waterline in Ravine Drive, Circle Drive, 52 Street and 52 Avenue. This can be done, without disturbing the streets except for residential services and the north west corner of Circle Drive which will be trenched.

The replacement of existing cast iron waterline with new PVC pipe is needed due to soil eroding the cast iron line. The town has had to repair two waterline breaks in Circle Drive this winter as well as others in previous years.

These existing waterlines have been on the Town's Capital Plan for the past 15 years and Town's Asset Management Plan. This project will be done in 2017 and 2018. The Town will pay the contractor over four years, 2017 to 2020, using MSI Capital funds and without incurring further debt.

Snow removal

Businesses and residential property occupants who fail to clean snow off their sidewalks within the 48 hours allowed following a snowfall came under fire at last week's town council meeting, with concern expressed for the safety of pedestrians using the uncleared sidewalks.

Elks Alumni reunited at tribute to former teammate

The Horizon Room's trophy cabinet was redecorated for the occasion with photos of Elks teams of earlier years, trophies bearing the names of top players over the decades, and a timeline display of jerseys from the purple-and-gold worn by the first teams to the various black and white sets worn over the years.

One section of the display was dedicated to photos and memories of former Elks player Michael Boratyniec, who tragically passed away last April, with the current Elks roster deciding to host the alumni at this memorial game in his honor.

The two-period contest saw Team White, consisting of Richard Marcoux, Rick Austin, Terry Wozniak, Eugene Zarowny, Jeff Buck, Murray Cochrane, Victor Stepa, Pat Lamoureux, Jon Olson, Dwayne Karbaszewski, Dan Skrypichayko, Greg Desaulniers, Lindsay Jenner, Marc Richard, Lane Lorenson and goalies Mike Scott and Bob Matthews, coached by Lorn Berg and Curtis Porcina, take on Team Black, made up of Doug Zarowny, Troy Lorenson, Tyson Stafford, Allan Loughran, Willie Lesyk, Dave Nazarchuk, Brian Poitras, Robyn Moroziuk, Kerry Loughran, Marty Bendixen, Curtis Collins, John Wozniak, Norton Quinney, Lynall Slywka and goalies Ryan Hahn and Dwayne Wolanuk, coached by George Bendixen. Tim Kubista and John Charlton, and featured play-by-play announcing by Bernie Poitras.

The first period saw Richard Marcoux open the scoring for Team White on a penalty shot, with his teammates adding three more before Team Black managed to slip one past the vigilant Mike Scott. Team Black added a goal by Kerry Loughran and a penalty shot goal by Troy Lorenson in the second, with a final goal from Team White slipping past Ryan Hahn with 27 seconds remaining bringing the final score to 5-3 in White's favor.

During the warm-up sessions for the memorial game and the current team's game against Paradise Hill Hawks that followed, all the Elks and former Elks autographed a helmet bearing Boratyniec's number 22, which was presented to his family during a ceremony just before the Elks-Hawks game, where his framed Elks jersey, which will be hung in the arena lobby, was prominently displayed.

Boratyniec played all of his minor hockey in Elk Point, before going on to play with the St. Paul Canadiens, returning to Elk Point as an adult to join the Elks team. As a minor hockey player, he was part of the ceremonial face-off during the arena's opening ceremonies in 1974. Following a moment of silence honoring the memory of the former Elk, his father Albert took the microphone to introduce his family and to thank the Elks, who he said "are paying great tribute to our family. What a way to remember Michael."

He recalled the earliest days of the arena, when Michael was so enthused with hockey that he spent every possible minute there, and once, hurrying home before his curfew, was tracked down by his dad, walking down the street in his sock feet in -40 weather, carrying his skates, stick and helmet, and telling his dad that someone had hidden his boots while he was on the ice.

Michael's daughter Cydney had a special part in the ceremony and was given the honour of dropping the puck in the ceremonial face-off between Elks captain Jason Kalynchuk and Hawks captain Keenan MacNab for the Elks' final game of the 2016-17 regular season, which saw the Elks shut out the visitors by a 7-0 margin, an outcome that Michael would undoubtedly have cheered on right to the final buzzer.

Myles Whitford put the Elks on the scoreboard just under four minutes into the game, and would later go on to score another pair of goals in the second period, assisted on his first by Mark Brodwin, by Jordyn Wozniak and John Schmitt on the second and by Matthew Boulianne to make it a hat trick. Nicolas Trufal scored the second goal in the first period, assisted by Scott Ward, with Ward scoring right off the faceoff in the second period, assisted by Whitford and Schmitt. Sean Joly added another goal to the Elks' total just over half a minute later, assisted by Brodwin. Brodwin scored the final goal of the game early in the third period, assisted by Schmitt, while the Hawks would fly away home disappointed after all 19 of their shots on goal were shut out by Paul Boulianne.

With the regular season now complete, the Elks move into playoffs, with the first two games against Dewberry Mustangs scheduled for this week, with the location of Friday's game still to be announced and Saturday's 8:30 p.m. game in Elk Point.

Reminders that it is the responsibility of property owners and occupants to remove the snow were included in this month's utility bills, and "ideally, we want people to follow the bylaw," CAO Ken Gwozdz said. "The biggest concern is people who do nothing at all" about snow removal. While most sidewalks were cleared as required under the snow removal bylaw, some were not. Letters were sent to those who did not comply, advising them that if they did not remove the snow, town crews would do so and the charge the cost of doing so to the tax account for the property.

One snow related problem was noted that could occur even when snow is cleared from the walks. Warm weather causes snow alongside the walks to melt and puddle on some walkways, and creates slippery conditions when dropping temperatures cause the water to freeze.

Information request

A detailed request for information regarding town operations submitted by a property owner in early December has seen the required information gathered and a letter prepared answering the questions regarding town debt, tax incentives, walking trail expenses, land sales, garbage collection fees and stripped soil relocation. Some information could not be included because of FOIP, Gwozdz noted. Copies of the information provided will also be forwarded to the Minister of Municipal Affairs and MLA David Hanson. It was noted that because live minutes are taken at council meetings and are posted the Town of Elk Point website the following day, the public will be able to access such information without delay or difficulty. "We are now as transparent as possible," Gwozdz told council.

Site for rent

Council approved a motion to remove the aging trailer that previously housed a caretaker at Elk Point Airport, and to offer the site at a reasonable rent.

Appraisal

Council studied and approved a comprehensive appraisal report on the quarter section of land that includes the Elk Point transfer station.

Emergency power

Elk Point Arts and Leisure Centre is now equipped with wiring that would accommodate the use of an emergency generator in case of a power outage. The town's share of the cost is $1,364.77, which will come from the operating budget.

Kindness Week

The F. G. Miller High School Loyal Order of the P.U.P and the F. G. Miller Kindness Committee advised council that Random Acts of Kindness Week is coming up from Feb. 20 to 24 and that their Pink Day Project for bullying awareness will be on Wednesday, Feb. 22.

Elk Point Municipal Library has provided town council with their program plan for the coming year, which includes programs and activities for all ages of residents.

Rural MLAs want more representation, not less, Boundaries Commission told

JANANI WHITFIELD
Review Staff

While the population of Alberta has exploded by 800,000 people since 2010, rural Alberta has not seen the same growth, and the population for the provincial riding of Lac La Biche – St. Paul – Two Hills has stayed largely static, according to Alberta's Electoral Boundaries Commission.

But rural politicians were united in their feedback to the commission while it made a stop in St. Paul on Jan. 23 – representation of rural Alberta, the economic driver of the province, should not be based on population. The commission has been tasked with redrawing the boundaries of Alberta's 87 ridings, from when it was last done in 2010, to reflect the province's changing population.

"I feel we need more representation of the rural areas, not less," said the riding's current MLA David Hanson, adding he would like to see this main fact reflected in the commission's report.

The Lac La Biche – St. Paul – Two Hills municipality covers 26,000 sq. km, three and a half counties, 10 municipal governments, five First Nations and two Metis settlements, plus four school boards and more than 20 schools, said Hanson.

"So when we talk about equitable representation, it should not be based on population alone," he said, adding that there are MLAs in the legislature who tell him, almost in a bragging fashion, that they can cross their densely packed, urban constituencies in 20 minutes, while he must work hard to get to every corner of the constituency and represent it well. "It's a lot of driving."

Former MLA Ray Danyluk also weighed in, noting that rural ridings tend to be conservative-leaning; if the commission adds more urban ridings at the expense of rural ridings, "you can change the scope of power," he noted.

Of course, while rural politicians pitch the case for more representation, urban politicians will do the same, said commissioner Laurie Livingstone, who looked to play devil's advocate with the rural politicians' case.

"We hear urban MLAs are overworked," she said, adding that constituents may also have a reason to be upset, or feel under-represented. "That's the argument we hear from there – why should my vote count less than my cousin that lives in Peace River, or wherever?"

Lac La Biche Mayor Omer Moghrabi pointed out that people looking out of Calgary offices see skyscrapers.

DEFENDING THE BOUNDARIES - Present MLA David Hanson and his predecessor Ray Danyluk made their opinions on electoral boundary changes clear at last week's meeting in St. Paul.

"I don't see no rigs there, I don't see no oilfields," he said.

He went on to say that rural Alberta watches as ministers announce billions of dollars on the Yellowhead or interchanges, and that "the northeast has been left out, in terms of infrastructure."

However, he added, "I think the rural area has been heard... What we fear is that we may lose that voice."

Currently, the city of Edmonton has 19 MLAs, while Calgary has 25 MLAs, with the two cities making up half of the 87 MLAs in the province. Moghrabi suggested that Calgary should drop a few ridings, with Edmonton adding a few so their representation was equal, while four more ridings should be created and split equally between the north and south rural areas of the province.

Danyluk nodded from behind him with a smile, saying, "I like it."

The chair of the commission, Justice Myra Bielby, posed questions to presenters on what sort of changes would make sense if a boundary change had to happen – for instance, are Lac La Biche and Athabasca close enough trading partners that they should be in the same riding? Would it help if large rural ridings had two offices to serve their ridings? Would it make sense for constituencies to be aligned along east – west corridors, rather than through north – south corridors?

"It's like a jigsaw puzzle," she said after the meeting wrapped up, adding changing one boundary affects all others. "You have to consider the entirety if you're going to consider each one."

As the commission tours the province, it is collecting valuable feedback in finding out about communities' natural alliances, she said, for instance, what the ties are between St. Paul and Lac La Biche, or St. Paul and Bonnyville and Cold Lake.

The commission's report will be posted online on or before May 31st, with specific recommendations made for all 87 ridings, said Bielby as the meeting concluded.

Kenney lays out plan for uniting the right

JD SCHMIDT WITH FILES FROM
JANANI WHITFIELD
Review Contributor

In his bid to win the Progressive Conservative leadership, Jason Kenney has been crossing the province, visiting St. Paul on Saturday at the Galaxy Motel to discuss his plan to unite the right, as well as other issues pressing on the minds of Albertans.

Kenney spoke to an audience of about 30 locals, about growing feeling of mistrust between the provincial NDP government and Albertans.

"What can we do to get our province back on track?" asked Kenney. "The reason I'm here to make sure that the NDP doesn't get re-elected, because they are a government that has done great damage to our province."

"Alberta has always been a place of opportunity for those who grew up there, and for those around the country and around the world. It's been the kind of place that helps you get ahead if you work hard, and the NDP's social experiments are taking that away from us."

Since last summer, Kenney has been vocal about what he thinks is the best way to "beat the NDP" and bring Alberta back under conservative leadership, calling for the Wildrose and PC parties to merge into one party.

"For too long, the PCs have been saying 'You Wildrose guys are too rigid, and too uncompromising, and you left us, so you're to blame for splitting the Conservative vote.' Meanwhile the Wildrose guys are saying 'Well, you PCs got too liberal and arrogant and you left us, so you're to blame.'"

"But you know what? When we split the vote over petty differences like this, there is only one possible outcome: the NDP get another term. Look at the damage they've done in less than two years. Do you really think we can afford to have them for two, or heaven forbid, four more years?"

Kenney said that if conservative-minded people "sleepwalk" their way into the 2019 election, the NDP, led by Premier Rachel Notley, will easily win 35 per cent of the popular vote and form government once again.

"If you want to prevent further disasters from the Notley crew, unifying the Conservative parties is the most viable option. And I can guarantee that if this happens and the Conservatives win the 2019 provincial election, the very first thing we'll do is begin an act to repeal the carbon tax."

This statement, to no surprise, was met with a round of cheers and applause from those seated in the Galaxy Motel.

Previously, Kenney has served as the Canadian Minister of Citizenship, Immigration and Multiculturalism, Minister of Employment and Social Development, and Minister of Defence under former Prime Minister Stephen Harper's Conservative government. He said he now wants to focus more on the province of Alberta to restore its hard-working, conservative roots.

Unite the right movement

While the leadership race will not wrap up until March 18 at a convention in Calgary, Kenney has momentum with him, having 80 per cent of delegates that have been selected committed to him.

Allen Preston, president of the local Progressive Conservative constituency association, said he was not at Saturday's meeting with Kenney. As PC association president, he said he was not making any announcements as to whom he was supporting, but rather, letting the membership decide for themselves.

EDITORIAL

Groundhog Day?

It's not quite Groundhog Day yet, but the movie of that name came to mind as the headlines from 1987 and 1992 were reviewed on this page.

You will have seen coverage of the newest round of discussions on electoral boundary reviews on Page 3 of this issue, and tomorrow will be the day when the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce will determine its direction for the coming year.

What these two events had in common 30 and 25 years ago and still do today, is that input was and is being sought. The people of Alberta, in the first case, and the Elk Point and district business owners and operators, in the second case, had and have the opportunity to have their voices heard.

Whether the voices at the boundaries discussion will make a difference will not be known until as late as the end of May, but if the business people show up and make their feelings known tomorrow evening at the Chamber's AGM, they have an opportunity to set the direction the chamber should take, and to ensure those decisions are in our community's best interest.

MP welcomes Keystone XL approval

On Feb. 24, 2017, President Donald Trump signed an executive order approving Trans Canada's Keystone XL Pipeline.

"This announcement from Washington is great news for Albertans, and for all Canadians. Keystone XL will increase export capacity into the US, create thousands of jobs for Canadians in oil and gas, and manufacturing, and finally provide workers and proponents some certainty," said Shannon Stubbs, MP for Lakeland and Official Opposition Deputy Critic for Natural Resources. "This approval of responsible energy transportation infrastructure will increase export capacities to Canada's #1 oil and gas customer, diversify Canadian energy export markets, and expand the customer base for Canadian energy around the world."

Keystone XL, which will run 1,900 kilometers from Hardisty, Alberta to Steele City, Nebraska, was approved under the previous Conservative government, which helped secure broad based support in both the U.S. Senate and Congress, but was ultimately vetoed by former President Obama.

While the US is ramping up domestic energy production and positioning to become a major energy competitor for Canadian oil and gas, I am glad the President made a common sense, fact based decision, put economic best interests, the Canadian US partnership, and the standard of living and energy security of North Americans, ahead of extremist ideology and short sighted activism, by reversing the previous veto," said Stubbs. "Canada's energy is the most socially and environmentally responsible oil and gas in the world. Expanding the ability to export it internationally means Canada will continue to be a global energy leader.

Although this decision is being celebrated by many levels of governments across the country, other important Canadian energy projects must move forward.

WAY BACK WHEN...

Chamber's future questioned, electoral boundaries debated

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE ELK POINT REVIEW AND LAKELAND REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF JANUARY 30 IN...

1987

"What happened to the chamber of commerce? Weren't they supposed to start up again in January?" was the question on many minds, including those of the skeleton executive, who prepared a questionnaire which was printed in the paper, asking for community input on what the roles of the chamber should be, and asking for suggestions regarding its future. Traffic jams at the A. G. Ross Arena were studied by Town Council, with a parking ban on the west side of 51 street in front of the arena suggested by the public works committee.

1992

Elk Point's first arrival of 1992, Joshua Floyd Paul, born January 25, was the second new year's baby in a row for Brenda Paul and Ronald Fryingpan, whose daughter was the first arrival of 1991. MLA John Drobot was looking for public input on proposed changes to the St. Paul provincial electoral division, and urged all area residents to attend an upcoming public hearing.

Despite large and appreciative crowds, the future of Elk Point's First Night Festival was in question, due to the lack of active members for the planning committee. Elk Point's Physician Recruitment Committee heaved a sigh of relief when Dr. Sandy Koe indicated that she would return to Elk Point and establish a practice here.

the province, with local teachers' union president Randy Proskiw stating that talks had been "amicable. We're working on the issues that are there." The Elk Point Seniors Recreation Centre was all set to celebrate their tenth anniversary, with that facility having become one of the busiest places in town during the decade.

The luck of the shamrock was back with Leonard Gadowski, who skipped the winners for his third Elk Point Oilmen's Bonspiel championship in four years, defeating Robyn Moroziuk's Europump rink in the final.

ELK POINT OILMEN'S ASSOCIATION president Don Mudryk added his congratulations as Ken Ference presented the 2006 Oilman of the Year award to Ted Yarmuch.

Deputy Premier Doug Horner, Minister of Transportation Ray Danyluk and Assistant Deputy Minister of Finance and Enterprise Justin Reimer joined Vegreville-Wainwright MP Leon Benoit to discuss regional and community issues at an Alberta HUB roundtable in Elk Point. The new industrial subdivision was set for an early spring start, but paving the heavily traveled streets in the existing subdivision was set back a year to wait for more MSI funding.

Bantam, Atom Avalanche advance to next round

Strange but true things can happen in hockey! The Bantam Avalanche played a provincial game in Mallaig on Tuesday night, winning 12 to 8. A lot of goals by both teams, it was more like an Atom game than a Bantam game. But I guess it's not that strange until you consider what happened in the second game. The same two teams the very next night, the game was the total opposite of the night before. No scoring at all in the first two periods and it wasn't until half way through the third period when the Avalanche would finally score short-handed while killing a penalty. Jaden 'Jet Stream' Van Maaron stealing the puck off the defenseman and buried it into the mesh. Then Mallaig would score about 20 seconds later on the same power play to make it one all. That score remained one all until 30 seconds left in the game when the Avalanche scored two quick goals in the last 30 seconds, one by Charlie 'Angel' Rogal and one by Wolke 'the Wolfman' Cueva made the final score 3 to 1 for the Avalanche. The first game was totally offensive and no defense at all, the next game was totally defensive and absolutely no offence. Weird! Regardless, the bantams will now advance to the second round against Wabasca, traveling there this weekend for the first of the two-game series, the second game if necessary will be in Elk Point on Saturday, February 11 at 5 p.m.

The Atom Avalanche also played two provincial games this past weekend, winning the series. They traveled to Paradise Valley Friday night for the first provincial game, winning 9 to 1. 'King Kong Konnor' Poitras with seven goals, Sam 'Spiderman' Rogal and Phoenix Canning with one each. Why do you think a team down eight goals would make a return trip? Well, maybe they figured if they could shut down 'King Kong' they would still have a chance? Remember, weird things can happen. When they returned to Elk Point for the second game on Saturday the Avalanche won 15 to 2 but it was a whole different bunch of kids who got involved in the scoring of this one. A hat trick for the young promising rookie 'Top Gunner' Crawford, Ryan 'Ram Rod' Cameron, 'Spiderman' and 'King Kong Konnor' with two each, singles for 'Saint Nic' Penner, Cash 'CC' Capjack, 'Bo Diddle' Fontaine, Vaughn 'the Vulture' Ockerman, Phoenix Quinney-Canning and Kaleb 'Formula One' Flamand. Assists for Brendon 'Blue Line' Haesch-Baker, 'Timmy Joe' Cardinal and 'Cyclone Cole' Pierce. Goalie 'Kid Kade' Fontaine getting the goaltending duties wasn't very busy but was sharp as a whip when called upon. So in this game everyone was involved. Call it team work! The next round starting this weekend will be against Crows Nest North, a team playing out of Gibbons.

After a very bad start for the Peewee Avalanche on Saturday against St. Paul, down by 4 to 0 in the first period, the Avalanche came out and won the second and third period. Too little too late, but better late than never, the final 8 to 5 for St Paul. 'Mic Jager' Fontaine with a hat trick and two assists, Cea Jay Quinney scoring his first goal of the year, team captain Kobe 'the Cobra' Warawa with one goal and an assist and also winning the heart and hustle award for his efforts.. Landon 'the Magnificent'

Malachowski with two assists, defenseman Odin 'the Wall' Smith and Dean 'the Machine' Ockerman with an assist each. 'Bazooka Joey' Cardinal was doing a terrific job for-checking. And, another great game for goalie Vanden 'Super Mario' Moroziuk who was out shot 2 to 1 but kept the boys in the hunt.

Fun for all, and three big wins for our Micro Novice Avalanche in the Bonnyville tournament on Saturday.

A good weekend for our league-leading Midget Avalanche. Friday night at home, the game ended in a 5-all tie against the second place team, the Frog Lake T Birds, the Avalanche still sitting in first place. Lots of great teamwork in this one, five different goal scorers and some helpers from all the other guys on the team, Hayden 'Hot Wheels' Ludlage, 'Captain Obvious' Stafford, Kyle 'Ketchup' Kjenner, Nick 'Sparky' Anderson and Christian 'Wheels' Castle-Wasson all scoring one each. Picking up assists were Chase 'Rink Rat' Dorey, Cyle 'Grinder' Graus, Bowen 'Bam Bam' Krider, Angus 'Micky' McFarlane. On Saturday the Avalanche traveled to the Border City, blanking the Blazers 8 to zip. "This is how we do it, baby!" 'Captain Obvious' leading the way with a hat trick and a couple of assists, 'Sparky' with two goals and two assists, 'Bam Bam' and 'Rink Rat' each with a goal and two assists, 'Wheels' with one goal, 'Ketchup' with three helpers, 'Micky' with an assist too.

The Novice 1A played against Cold Lake on Saturday at home, winning 11 to 3. A hat trick and two assists for Madden 'Mad Dog' Flamand, a hat trick and one assist for 'Without a Trace' Morgan, 'Hurricane Kayl' Warawa and Sebastian 'Bruce' Brousseau with two goals each, 'Notorious Nolan' Ballas with a goal and an assist. His sister 'Stellar Ella' and the goalie Raif 'Rug Rat' Evans Anderson with an assist each, 'Rug Rat' doing an awesome job between the pipes. Next weekend the Novice 1A team will be playing in the Mallaig onze day tournament.

A real barn burner Sunday afternoon at the AGR for the Novice 1B team, the game ending in a 7-all tie against the Frog Lake T Birds, Braylee 'B.J' Lesyk with two goals, his brother 'Good Time Charlie' with a goal and three assists, Evett 'Snoopy' Smereka with two goals and two assists, Brenden 'Buzz' Kadutski and Kale 'the Hawk' Ockerman with one goal and one assist each. Kaysen 'Dynamite' DeMossiac and Charlotte 'Cho Cho' Henderson also with assists. Behind the mask, Riley 'the Coyote' Bourne doing a fine job with the goaltending duties for his first time this season. ,

"She's a 'Brick House' and she's mighty, mighty at keeping the puck out!" Goalie Heaven 'Brick House' Colbourne was named the player of the game on Sunday when the Storm Bantam Girls team played against the Vermilion Tigers, 'Brick House' was outstanding, facing 43 shots, making some really nice glove saves and doing the splits kicking the puck out with her skate on a few of the deflections in front. But she did have lots of help from her defense, namely Georgia 'Gorgeous' Bendixen who blocked a lot of shots for her and cleared the players out of the front of the net numerous times, then carried the puck or fired it across the blue line out of the dangerous territory. The Storm failed to win against the Vermilion Tigers, but still made a heck of a game out of it. And happy birthday wishes going out to the former Storm player Kali Cousins.

THE ELK POINT OILMEN'S ASSOCIATION

welcomes all "old and new" curlers to their 34th annual bonspiel.

Best of luck to all and have a great time!

Welcome from the EPOA President

It has come to that time of year again and the 34th Annual Elk Point Oilmen's Bonspiel is here. That's a long history for any group, and a lot of thanks go to all the committees that kept it going for all those years, through the booms and busts.

On behalf of the EPOA, I would like to welcome all those who are attending and involved in this year's event. Some of you have been here year after year, and it is always our pleasure to welcome you back for more competition. Others are newcomers and we are very glad to have you on board - the more the better.

Thanks also to my hard working committee for all the effort they have put in to make the bonspiel happen again this year.

We in the oil industry are fortunate that oil prices have begun to recover and that almost twice as many drilling rigs are operating as there were at this time last year. That means more work for all the service industries in our area, which makes the overall picture one of cautious optimism for the future, not only for the industry but for businesses in our community.

We are so grateful to the businesses that support our bonspiel every year and have continued to do so even when times were tough, and to all those who have donated to our event again this year. It is because of your generosity that we have been able to continue hosting the bonspiel that has become a tradition in Elk Point.

In closing, I wish all the best to this weekend's curlers, as they "Hurry hard!" and aim for the button. May the weekend result in new friendships and lasting memories, and at least for a while, help us to forget the challenges we face in our day-to-day lives as we focus on the challenges we face in one game at a time. Enjoy your weekend, curlers and guests, and please make use of our shuttle service to get you home safely,

Ryan Hahn, President and Elk Point Oilmen's Bonspiel Committee

Fun and games at the Library

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Elk Point Municipal Library celebrated Family Literacy Day with a day of fun and games for all ages from tots to seniors.

Adults spent the afternoon enjoying their favourite card games and trying out some board games as well as finally completing the 1,000-piece puzzle that has been puzzling library visitors for more than two months.

Once school was out, an excited group of youngsters found that this week's after-school session, usually consisting of stories and crafts, had even more fun in store, with games ranging from library manager Daphne Schnurer's giant Jenga game (top right) to the complicated contortions of Twister (right), and enjoyed juice and cookies as they competed at Trouble (below) and tried out the Game of Life (bottom right) with some help from library staffers Kassandra Moores and Hannah Ganske.

Next on the library's list of programs are not just one, but TWO colouring contests, one for kids only, age 15 and under and one for adults 16 and older, with a Feb. 28 deadline and prizes in both age groups.

Another special February event is the Library Tea, which for this month only, has been moved back a week and will be held on Valentine's Day, Tuesday, Feb. 14 at 2 p.m..

THEY CAME BACK, AND ELKS FANS WERE GLAD THEY DID. Team White was made up of Richard Marcoux, Rick Austin, Terry Wozniak, Eugene Zarowny, Jeff Buck, Murray Cochrane, Victor Stepa, Pat Lamoureux, Jon Olson, Dwayne Karbaszewski, Dan Skrypichayko, Greg Desaulniers, Lindsay Jenner, Marc Richard, Lane Lorenson and goalies Mike Scott and Bob Matthews, and was coached by Lorn Berg and Curtis Porcina. Team Black included Doug Zarowny, Troy Lorenson, Tyson Stafford, Allan Loughran, Willie Lesyk, Dave Nazarchuk, Brian Poitras, Robyn Moroziuk, Kerry Loughran, Marty Bendixen, Curtis Collins, John Wozniak, Norton Quinney, Lynall Slywka and goalies Ryan Hahn and Dwayne Wolanuk, and was coached by George Bendixen, Tim Kubista and John Charlton.

AUTOGRAPHED HELMET - A helmet autographed by past and present Elks was presented to the Boratyniec family by Myles Quinney during the memorial ceremonies.

But as for reports that Kenney has sewn up much of the committed support, he expressed some reservations.

"There are a lot of reports out there that show the race internally, is a lot closer than what the Kenney camp would like to believe," he said, noting that delegate selection takes place until Feb. 16, and even after that point, delegates may choose to swing their support to another candidate.

"My word to everyone would be, we really have to give all three candidates their place in the sun, listen to them, and have the members vote at the remaining delegate selection meetings that are coming on."

Fellow PC leadership contenders

Wildrose leader open to one conservative party

Wildrose leader Brian Jean gave fuel to the fire of uniting the right last week, with an online video message posted on Thursday saying that he supports the idea of a united party.

"If our members approve a unity agreement with the PC party, I am prepared to stand down as leader of the Wildrose, and to seek the leadership of our single, principled, conservative party in a race to be conducted this summer."

Local Wildrose MLA David Hanson had said at the end of last year that he was prepared to follow his leader and the wishes of his constituents when it

Donna Kennedy-Glans and Sandra Jensen had dropped out of the race earlier, with former St. Albert MLA Stephen Khan announcing last week that he was withdrawing from the race as well; all three were reported as saying they felt there was not enough room for a centrist, moderate voices that focused around policy discussion, aimed at rebuilding around the PC brand rather than merging with the right.

Vermilion-Lloydminster MLA Richard Starke and Calgary lawyer Byron Nelson are the only two left in the race, with Starke advocating that the PC party does not merge with the Wildrose. He is calling for the two parties to work as two separate but collaborating entities to avoid vote-splitting.

"I still believe the race is to be won by any one of those three," said Preston.

came to uniting the right. When reached this past weekend, he said he believed that Jean's announcement was well received, especially as the Wildrose has been "constantly asked" about its position moving forward.

"This issue has been an elephant in the room and I am very glad that our members will have an opportunity to decide, once and for all, on this question of unity. Brian's plan gives that opportunity, without risk of dissolving our party," he said, adding the ultimate decision will be up to the membership to decide to accept this new path or continue on as the Wildrose party.

More from the Elks Alumni

Hockey

And now for the K.A. Campbell quote of the week. "I really get the feeling that there are a lot of people who want to see me fail. I'm not exactly loved by everyone on the planet." Last week's answer to "If they fit through the door, I don't want them." - Milt Schmitt, former Bruins coach and player who recently passed away at age 93.

Don't miss the Elks in league playoff action as they take on the Dewberry Mustangs this Saturday evening at 8:30!
